The Sofitel Abidjan Hotel Ivoire is the reference of luxury nested in the most luxurious and secure district of Abidjan (Cocody). The Hotel is ideally located at few minutes from the embassies, main companies and the President offices.

This 5-star luxury hotel and its conference facilities have an international reputation closely tied to the great conferences and international events that have taken place in Africa.

Completely renovated, our guests could experience a quality service while enjoying an unrivalled view over the entire Abidjan and the Lagoon.

The Sofitel Abidjan Hotel Ivoire was built in 1964. Imagined by the president Félix Houphouët-Boigny and designed by Moshe Mayer, it was considered, at the time, as the most modern and prestigious building of the African continent.

Every Ivorian has a story to tell about the hotel that is linked to the history of the city.

It welcomed great conferences, international events, Political leaders as the king of Spain, Bill Clinton, Alassane Ouattara and also very international stars as Michael Jackson and Barry White…

Following the political crisis that the Ivory Coast faced, the Hotel was closed during 2 years for a major renovation conducted by the Lebanese architect Pierre Fakhoury.

The hotel has a very contemporary architecture with a Tower overlooking the Lagoon and an artificial Lake.

“The Tower” and its 209 rooms opened in November 2011 and “the Bar” still in the process of being renovated. Starting from January 2013 will start a new era for the Hôtel Ivoire as a Sofitel.
